Civil Air Patrol photo by 2Lt Ricardo Carrano

Exercise missions are being conducted with digital imaging. In this photo, Lt Rick Carrano used a pocket point-and-shoot camera shooting through the plastic window of a C182 at 1500 feet. The photo is of Providence Hospital on Forest Drive at Two Notch Road in Columbia SC. The hospital is a mission of the Sisters of Charity of St Augustine. The Benedict College stadium is in the background. Gonzales Gardens apartments are in the foreground. The hospital management was so pleased with the work of the Civil Air Patrol and the quality of Lt Carrano's work that it has requested rights to use this photo in their internal and external publications. Lt Carrano is an Aerial Photographer trainee in the Greenville Composite Squadron. The camera is a 10.0 MP Canon PowerShot S95. The photo was taken about noon with an automatic setting of f/4, 1/640 sec, ISO-80.
