

National Awards to SCWG & Members

Written by Emerson Smith
Monday, 13 August 2007 11:22 -

The Frank G. Brewer Memorial Aerospace Award in the Individual Category was presented at the National Board meetings in Atlanta on 11 August 2007 to retired USAF Master Sgt. W.T. "Bill" Simmons, a Tuskegee Airman, for his service to the W.A. Perry Middle School Cadet Squadron. Thanks to Maj Cynthia Taylor and Capt Rosalyn Peterson for nominating Sgt Simmons for this award.

The SC Wing was recognized as the Outstanding Drug Demand Reduction Wing in the Nation. The DDR program in SC Wing has been headed by Maj Anthem Adams and is now headed by Maj Mike Renolds. Thanks to Maj Adams, who was in Atlanta for the Banquet on 11 August 2007, for her excellent service to the SC Wing, the Middle East Region, and to the national DDR program. Maj Adams was also given the Outstanding DDR Adminsistrator Award during the last training seminar for the national DDR programs.

There are other individuals, units, and programs that deserve national recognition. Nominations have to be made by individuals in the SC Wing in order for members, units, and programs to be recognized for excellence at the SC Wing Conference, the Air Force Association Conference, the Middle East Region Conference, and at the National Board and Conference. Plan now to nominate a member or unit or to self-nominate yourself, your unit or your program.

Next year's National Conference will be held in Orlando, Florida.